

Morris Animal Foundation President/CEO Begins “Vet Chat” – E-mail Discussion With Veterinarians on Important Animal Health Research Issues

Denver, CO/November 13, 2007: Patricia Olson, DVM, Ph.D., Morris Animal Foundation’s president/CEO, has begun “Vet Chat,” an e-mail effort to correspond with the worldwide veterinary community about important animal health research issues. Periodically, Dr. Olson will be sending out short, informative messages related to important health research issues of value to veterinarians. She invites veterinarians to comment on the issues raised and provide input on animal health topics they face. To be sure you are on Dr. Olson’s “Vet Chat” e-mail distribution send an e-mail to vetchat@morrisanimalfoundtion.org. Learn more about MAF at www.morrisanimalfoundation.org.
